GREETING

In presenting my 1933 price list I want to thank my many customers and friends for their past patronage.

If your past transactions with me were not satisfactory please do not hold me responsible if you did not report same to me, for I always stand ready to make adjustments to your entire satisfaction.

Please read my guarantee and comply with same.

My Dahlias are field grown under natural conditions, not being forced with fertilize and water.

I do not accept less than one dollar orders by mail.

Look this list over and compare price and guarantee and then decide.

BEGINNERS COLLECTION NO. 1

Just send the amount that you wish to invest in Dahlias and leave it to me. Bulbs will be delivered to you properly named.

$3.00 COLLECTION

Twelve tubers from the above named varieties, where tags have been lost, for $3.00. No guarantee as to variety. Just think, you can't lose; you may get some of my best.

HOW TO GROW GOOD DAHLIAS

LIME YOUR GROUND IF IT IS ACIDY

Plant out in the open where they can get plenty of sunlight. Plant tubers horizontally, eye up, 4or 5 inches deep; mound up a little hill over eye, knock off if a crust forms until plants come through ground. Keep soil loose by frequent cultivating until buds begin to form. Keep all buds pinched out until the first of August. A little fertilizer with shallow cultivation in August is o. k. By all means do not force your Dahlias until August, and then only those that are not showing signs of buds by the 15th.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE

Owing to the confusion of my gardens with another Colvin's Dahlia Gardens that I am in no way whatsoever connected with I wish to make announcement, that my gardens have been known as Colvin's Dahlia Gardens for the past ten years and will continue under the same name growing hundreds of Dahlias.

And to those that placed your order with me last fall will be protected against any raise in this price list and will benefit by any drop in prices of any varieties that you may have ordered from me.

Show Gardens located at 415 West Walnut Street, three and one-half blocks west of State Road 41, turn west one block north of Southern Ry. and Ice Plant.

GLADIOLUS

Owing to the increasing demand for my Dahlias it has become necessary for me to discontinue the growing of some of my nice Gladiolus of which I had several varieties that run from 25 to 100 bulbs each, so that in order to save time and pass the quality on to you I have dumped them all together and am going to sell them mixed and guarantee them to please. These bulbs are all large blooming size.

I can furnish a few bulbs in the following varieties named:

Break O' Day, cream and pink	Doz. 35c
Giant Nymph, large light pink	Doz. 35c
Mrs. Leon Douglas, large mottled pink	Doz. 40c
Mr. W. H. Phipps, very large pink	Doz. 50c
Orange Queen, light orange	Doz. 30c; 100 $2.00
The above named mixtures	$1.50 per 100

GUARANTEE

All Dahlia bulbs are guaranteed to grow and come true to name. Should they fail to do so, notify me by September 1, and I will replace them free the following spring.

I pay the postage on all retail orders but do not pay the c. o. d. charges.

Return at once any stock not satisfactory in every way and your money will be refunded.

Money will be returned for any part of your order where stock is exhausted.

I will give 15 per cent extra in bulbs for all orders amounting to $5.00 or more if received before March 1, when accompanied with cash.

Twenty-five per cent will hold bulbs for spring shipment and will be considered as cash.

Visit my gardens in blooming season and see some of the latest creations in Dahlias in bloom from September 1 until frost.
